Angelo Patri

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

Albert B. Tibb

THE MODERN BOOK SERVICE

For Busy Educators and Librarians

THROUGH the Junior Literary Guild, books for boys and girls may be obtained which, from excellence of editorial selection, serviceable bindings and low cost, cannot be excelled or duplicated in the field of Children's Books. All books are new and available, shipping charges prepaid, to schools and libraries simultaneously with the Publisher's edition. All bindings are reinforced.

CAREFUL SELECTION

Junior Guild books are chosen from hundreds of publishers' manuscripts by Helen Ferris, in co-operation with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Sidonie M. Gruenberg, Angelo Patri, and Albert B. Tibbets. There is no charge for their services, nor for YOUNG WINGS, issued monthly.

FOUR BOOKS EACH MONTH

One book is selected each month for children 6, 7, and 8 years of age—Primary Grades; another for children 9, 10, 11 years of age—Elementary Grades; another for older girls 12–16 years of age—Junior and Senior High School; and a fourth for older boys 12–16 years—Junior and Senior High School.

PRICE

The yearly cost for each group is $18.50, prepaid delivery. The list price for each of these books is $2.00 or more. Thus a library or school may obtain Junior Literary Guild books at substantial savings, plus reinforced bindings.

PRINTED CURRICULUM INDICATIONS AVAILABLE

Curriculum Indications of available Junior Literary Guild books (still in stock) are included in our Catalog. Every Junior Literary Guild selection fits admirably into your school curriculum. Each month the adaptation of our books to the curriculum is made by an authority on curriculum content, who analyzes in detail each Junior Guild selection from the school point of view. These Curriculum Indications on all current Junior Guild books, as well as the Dewey Classifications, are mailed to you each month with our Advance Announcement.

PRESERVE YOUR COPIES OF YOUNG WINGS

The printing of each issue is limited in size

Each issue of YOUNG WINGS is limited to the number of our Junior Literary Guild subscribers. Early issues previous to September, 1939, are now exhausted and unavailable; and of the issues since that date, only a few copies of each are available.

A complete Index is available for all issues of YOUNG WINGS from June, 1929, to date.

An annual Index to YOUNG WINGS is published each January for the previous year

YOUNG WINGS

OUR MONTHLY PUBLICATION FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

YOUNG WINGS, the monthly publication of the Junior Literary Guild, is an important part of our plan. In each issue our authors and illustrators bring to our boys and girls fascinating stories of themselves and their work. So it is that our young Members are in direct personal touch with these great creative artists. The boys and girls glimpse the ways in which books come to be written; the ways in which an artist works to interpret each in his visual art. And through such contact, the inspiration of the creators of beauty comes to these, our young readers.

And our boys and girls have their own pages in YOUNG WINGS. To this Honor Department they send letters about their Junior Literary Guild books. The best of the letters submitted are published each month, and to the writer of each is awarded a special, inscribed book for his or her own library.

Every boy or girl whose school receives Junior Literary Guild books is also eligible as a contributor to the YOUNG WINGS Honor Pages. In short, YOUNG WINGS is yours—use it. Your school, your library may share in it. We are deeply gratified that YOUNG WINGS is playing an increasingly important part in schoolrooms and libraries throughout the United States.
